

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

October 15, 2020

Contact:

Jeff Winton

Jeff Winton Associates

Jeff@JeffWintonAssociates.com

(908) 872-2682

Press Release

Reclassification of Schizophrenia Is the Focus of SARDAA's Exhibit at the Upcoming 2020 NEI Max! Conference

Alexandria, VA – Schizophrenia and Related Disorders Alliance of America (SARDAA), the nonprofit organization dedicated to improving the lives of individuals affected by psychosis, will be exhibiting at Neuroscience Education Institute's 2020 NEI Max! conference from November 5 through November 8. Reclassification of schizophrenia spectrum will be the focus of SARDAA's exhibit.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, NEI Max! – a combination of Neuroscience Education Institute's spring (NEI Synapse) and fall (NEI Congress) meetings – will be a totally virtual "super meeting."

"SARDAA is anxious to collaborate to reclassify schizophrenia spectrum as a neurological brain illness," says SARDAA's Chief Executive Officer and Founder Linda Stalters, who will be monitoring SARDAA's virtual booth at NEI Max! During the conference, Stalters will be looking for opportunities to partner in schizophrenia spectrum research and care.

More information about the agenda, CME, exhibitors, sponsors, and how to register for NEI Max! can be found at the following link:

<https://www.neiglobal.com/Congress/CNGOverview/tabid/147/Default.aspx>.

About Schizophrenia and Related Disorders Alliance of America (SARDAA)

SARDAA is a nonprofit organization that promotes improvement in lives affected by schizophrenia-related brain illnesses – mental illnesses involving psychosis – through support programs, education, collaboration, and advocacy. SARDAA is dedicated to ensuring that every person living with a severe neuropsychiatric brain illness receives appropriate treatment, achieves recovery, and leads a fulfilling life in a compassionate community free of discrimination. For more information about SARDAA, please visit www.sardaa.org.

###

Copyright © 2020 Schizophrenia and Related Disorders Alliance of America

Improving Lives Affected by Psychosis

All rights reserved.